Dear Friends,

I am pleased to join Adelphi University in celebrating its 19th Annual President's Gala and recognizing tonight's distinguished honorees.

Adelphi University has established itself as one of the finest academic institutions in New York by opening doors and creating new, exciting opportunities for people to access a quality education.

I would like to thank Adelphi University's faculty, staff, and administrators for their unyielding commitment to empowering students with the knowledge, skills, and resources necessary to excel in the classroom and pursue careers in diverse fields. I would also like to applaud tonight's honorees for their outstanding achievements and contributions to the Adelphi community, including Michael and Christine Tiedman and Paula Malone, Ph.D. I am very grateful for your leadership and indispensable service.

On behalf of the residents of New York's fourth congressional district, I would again like to congratulate tonight's honorees and extend my best wishes for the continued success of Adelphi University.

Sincerely,

KATHLEEN M. RICE
Member of Congress
